APPEAL

ON BEHALF OF FAMINE-STRICKEN IRELAND.

WE THE UNDERSIGNED, MEMBERS OF THE Relief Committee, appeal to the ever-charitable citizens of Vancouver Island of all creeds and nationalities, but especially to the sons and daughters of poor, suffering Ireland.

It is quite unnecessary to draw the sad picture of the sufferings that are in store during this season for a great portion of that unfortunate and helpless Island. A cry of sympathy has risen in every land and all agree that private charity alone can partially alleviate Ireland's imminent calamities.

His Lordship Bishop Brondel, at Christmas noon service, made the initial start towards relief. A collection-box will be placed in the Church during the services until the 31st of January, the amount of which will be at once forwarded to the Archbishop of Dublin, who, as it is well known, distributes such gifts impartially to all who are in need.

In order, however, to extend to all the opportunity of saving from starvation their own unfortunate countrymen or fellowmen, we, members of the Relief Committee, will collect or receive subscriptions during the month of January and remit the amount through the same channel.

HENRY SHORT,

THE ISLAND RAILWAY.

Are the Government doing anything to expedite this most necessary enterprise? Have they put one foot before the other in an earnest effort to bring the project to the notice of the Dominion Government? Have they drawn the attention of Eastern capitalists to the fact that a line of railway constructed from Nanaimo to Esquimalt would inevitably carry all the coal now conveyed by vessels through the navigable waters from Esquimalt to Nanaimo? Have they prepared statistics, made a report and presented a well-digested scheme in support of the project to any one on the face of the wide earth who would be likely to interest himself in its favor? One of the demands of the secession memorial was an Island railway which occupies, also, the first important position in the CARNARVON settlement. That settlement called for the annual expenditure of $2,000,000 in railway construction on the Mainland, which the contracts just signed at Ottawa for the Emory-Savona railway will insure; and preparations to build that line were commenced by the the late Government before the secession memorial saw the light. There remains, then, only the Island railway to be undertaken to realize the aspirations of the petitioners. The Premier is at Ottawa, trying to clear up the dock muddle, for the existence of which he, more than any other living man, is responsible. He is also acting in the capacity of "Counsel for the Dominion Government" in the arbitration case. Will he, whilst there, bear in mind the Island railway? Can he afford sufficient time from the duties he has assumed in contravention of the constitution of this Province, or from the round of pleasures which always obtain at the opening of a session of Parliament, to look after the vital interests of the Province? We do not mean a spasmodic effort put forth to save appearances; but a strong, decided, vigorous and maintained exertion in that behalf. Not mere claptrap dispatches written to dangle before the eyes of the local House and distract the attention of members from the real condition of the country. There has been too much of that sort of thing in the past. People who accepted promises as Gospel are now asking, cui bono? They are looking for the beneficial results of the legislation of the past two sessions; and they look in vain. It is Dead Sea fruit that they grasp—fair to view, yet turning to ashes on the lip. Three of the four financial measures of the Government have been disallowed, and the fourth is trembling in the balance. The crop which promised well has proved disappointing. There is scarcely anything to mark the present epoch in legislation save fresh imposts, disallowed bills and new muddles. Everything is mixed up, unsatisfactory, without finality, system or method. Even the drydock, which the late Government proposed to assign to the Imperial Government to complete is now reported to be in a condition that is anything but pleasant to contemplate. We are aware that the Premier has a difficult role to play at Ottawa. As "Counsel for the Dominion Government" he will find it hard to assume an attitude antagonistic to that Government in matters which affect the entente cordiale of the Dominion with this Province. With a flat fee as "Dominion Counsel" in one hand, how he can hold a sprig of shillaleigh in the other and demand our rights? Nothing could possibly be more perplexing than the position in which he is placed, and as the country must be a sufferer in the long run by the remissness, stupidity or dishonesty of its officials, the effect cannot fail to be disastrous. It was to preclude the possibility of members of the Local House being influenced by Dominion patronage that the present Constitution Act, (which unseats a member for accepting employment from the Dominion Government to which is attached any fee or emolument) was passed by this House. So zealously has the Province guarded against the admission of Federal politics into the local arena that Dominion officials are actually disfranchised by Act of Parliament. And yet—and yet the Premier at whose instance these restrictive measures were introduced is the very first man to break his political neck over the obstacle which he reared to trip others up. The position of the Premier at Ottawa, as we have intimated, is a difficult and dangerous one. He is trying to serve two masters—to ride two horses that are going in opposite directions. A catastrophe is inevitable. The Premier will surely come to grief between the rival interests. His impending fate, however, cannot prevent us urging on the attention of the Premier and his colleagues the importance of at least trying to serve the country at Ottawa, by pressing upon the notice of the Dominion Government the importance of taking steps to speedily begin the construction of an Island Railway line.

Councillor Mansell's Motion.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE COLONIST:—Sir—At the meeting of Council this evening the notice of motion given by Councillor Mansell at the first meeting of the new Council, having reference to the closing of saloons at a certain hour each evening and on Sunday during church hours, will come up for discussion, and it is sincerely to be hoped that it will receive that candid consideration its importance demands. I think it is a move in the right direction, and so do many others. There is no good reason why the saloons of this city should be kept open continuously night and day, from week to week, the whole year round, as they now are, luring men from their families and boys from their homes, to the destruction of domestic peace and comfort in the one case and moral ruin in the other. Mr. Mansell deserves the thanks of the community for moving in this matter, not excepting the saloon keepers themselves, who, in many respects, would be great gainers by the enforcement of such a law. I sincerely hope this motion may carry, and that there may be some let up to the present system of nocturnal dissipation. PATERFAMILIAS.

THE MAINE SQUABBLE.

Both Parties Arming.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 24.—A plot to burn the residences of leading Augusta republicans was discovered to-night. Triangular bits of paper marked the doomed residences. They were tacked on after dark and were perceived by the vigilant police. Had the governor not given his order for calling out the troops to-night the military men at the state house were ready to abandon their watch, which was likely to result in an inglorious ending. The order for militia were given out by Gen Chamberlain's assistant adjutant general for the reason that a part of the militia would not, or it was feared would not, obey Gov. Davis' orders. The Capitol Guards garrison the state house to-night and partly relieve the worn out police who have been without sleep for many hours. A special train is ordered to-night from Lewiston. Probably the most aggressive movement of the state government will be to disperse the fusionist legislature and to arrest every fusionist official who persists in playing at government.

Those who may imagine the fusionists inactive and have abandoned their cause, are laboring under a mistake. While the government are not alarmed, they fully grasp the situation and will make the state house perfectly impregnable. The first military company that ever entered the state house, marched in at midnight to-night—the Capitol Guards. Messrs. Pilsbury, Blood, Channing and others are known to be enrolling men in every county in the state. Men are collected in the country towns ready for J. L. Smith's call. Capt. Black, of Augusta, is drilling men nightly.

Another Government Prosecution.

The Government, and those who hang on to their skirts and draw an easy living from the public treasury, seem never to tire of attacking The Colonist. A short time ago a most frivolous accusation against us for fancied libel was disposed of by the Grand Jury; and yesterday we were served again in the interest of a Mr. Rogers—a gentleman who is said to combine with the rather sedentary and monotonous duties of turnkey at the gaol in this city the more exciting, if less lucrative, avocation of editor-in-chief of the Standard. Some six or seven weeks ago a prisoner awaiting trial at the late Assizes escaped from the gaol in a very mysterious manner, leaving only a block of wood and a blanket to represent him in his cell. In an endeavor to induce the Government to institute an investigation (which they have not yet done) into the circumstances of the escape—which were, to say the least, suspicious—we intimated pretty plainly that if the turnkey-editor of the Standard would devote more time to watching prisoners and less to writing editorials for the Government journal an escape would be well-nigh impossible. For saying this we were fiercely attacked through the editorial columns of the Standard with a fresh inundation of the choice Billingsgate to which we have been treated personally for three years past by that paper. Having good reason to believe that the turnkey-editor had written or inspired the libel, we retorted on Christmas morning in an article which, although severe, was justified by what had preceded it, and had the instantaneous effect of teaching the Standard good manners, which it has not since transgressed. On Saturday we received from Mr. Rogers' attorney (Mr. Pollard) a demand for an apology for certain statements contained in our Christmas article. To this demand we replied that if Mr. Pollard's client would disavow in writing the authorship of the offensive libel in the Standard we would apologize in the most ample manner for any pain or injury we might have caused him. Being of a forgiving disposition we made no reference to previous attacks upon us, equally gross, equally unjustifiable and equally untruthful. Mr. Pollard's client would appear to imagine that he is the only man in this country whose feelings are at all capable of being damaged by a newspaper article, for in place of affording us any satisfaction as to whether he did or did not write or inspire the article aimed at us, he replied yesterday with a writ summoning us before the Supreme Court as defendant in a suit brought by him to recover an indefinite sum by way of damages. We thoroughly understand the forces that impel our antagonist to adopt this course. The Government are determined, if possible, to destroy The Colonist—"to crush the d—d thing," as one of their touters was heard to exclaim yesterday, and any public officer who may contribute to its annoyance is understood to stand highest in official favor and to be in the direct line of promotion. We shall see! It would be manifestly unfair to comment on the case now that it is likely to come before the Courts; but we cannot refrain from saying that if we can prove (and we think we can) that the plaintiff in this action penned the shameful libel on Mr. Elliott as well as numerous libels on the editor of The Colonist, he will be entitled to no sympathy whatever at the hands of either Court or Jury. We shall take occasion to refer to the matter more at length on a future occasion. Notwithstanding these attempts to muzzle the only independent journal in the city we do not intend to relax our efforts until public officers shall cease to contravene the law by following avocations other than those for which they draw pay at the Treasury, and until it will be possible to lock a prisoner in a cell over-night with a certainty of finding him there next morning.

AMATEUR CONCERT.—The attention of pleasure-seekers is directed to the concert to be given at Theatre Royal this evening under the management of Mrs. Bushell. The programme, which has been carefully prepared, will embrace many popular songs, instrumental selections and recitations. The best local amateur talent will assist in the concert, which promises to be a great success, and will terminate with a very laughable sketch entitled "Blue Glass." Admission 50 cents; reserved seats 25 cents extra.

THE steamer Sir James Douglas returned to the break in the cable between Fidalgo and Lopez Islands yesterday afternoon with a supply of new material on board. With favorable weather the repairs should be effected and telegraphic communication re-established by this evening.

IRISH RELIEF FUND.—Messrs. Burnes, McTeirnan and Short continued their canvass yesterday, and raised by evening the handsome sum of $560. This amount will be sent forward at once. It will carry a blessing with it to several aching hearts in the Green Isle.

THE FORESTERS will move into the hall recently occupied by the Masons, on Government street, on or about Feb. 1st.

Weights and Measures.

The following are amongst the regulations prescribed by the Dominion Weights and Measures Act. Weights, measures and weighing machines must be stamped and verified at the premises of the manufacturer and on payment of fees a certificate of fees will be granted. After the articles have been verified and stamped they may be taken for use in trade or may pass from the premises of the manufacturer to the premises of dealers in such goods, but such articles as are not accompanied by a certificate bearing a red stamp or which are not accompanied by any certificate wherein they are identified will be subject to re-verification and to payment of fees on the first occasion on which they are found in use by the Inspector or his assistant. When a manufacturer of weights or measures desires to remove any of his products from his establishment without first submitting them to verification he must see that they bear the "shop number" or some other mark by which they can be identified. If the articles assume the form of a package they must be marked "uninspected" and bear the name of the manufacturer. The Collector of Customs at the ports where such articles are imported will notify the nearest Inspector of Weights and Measures of the arrivals. When any weights, measures or weighing machines are imported for direct use they must be sent from the Custom House to the Inspector to be verified and stamped. Nothing in these regulations, nor in any previous regulations, is to be construed as preventing the importation, manufacture, or removal of and setting up, before they are verified, of dormant scales or weighbridges of any description coming within the requirements of the law, but which cannot be used nor properly verified until they are placed on a fixed foundation. But the use of such weighing machines for trade purposes is illegal until they have been verified and stamped. Iron weights presented for verification must be capable of holding a leaden plug on which the mark of the Inspector will be placed.

HOW TO PASS AN EXAMINATION IN LAW.—"Examiner — Do you smoke, sir? Candidate—I do, sir. Examiner—Have you a spare cigar? Candidate—Yes, sir, (extending a short six). Examiner—Right; what is the first duty of a lawyer? Candidate—To collect fees. Examiner—Right; what is the second? Candidate—To increase the number of his clients. Examiner—When does your position towards your client change? Candidate—When making a bill of costs. Examiner—Explain. Candidate—Then we occupy the antagonist's position. I assume the character of plaintiff, and he becomes defendant. Examiner—A suit decided, how can you stand with the lawyer conducting the other bill? Candidate—Cheek by jowl! Examiner—Enough, sir; you promise to be an ornament to your profession, and I wish you success. Now are you aware of the duty you owe me? Candidate—Perfectly. Examiner—Describe the duty. Candidate—It is to invite you to drink. Examiner—But suppose I decline? Candidate (scratching his head)—There is no instance of the kind on the books. I cannot answer the question. Examiner—You are right, and the confidence with which you have made the assertion shows you have read the law attentively; let's take the drink, and I will sign your certificate."—Western Law Journal.

They Are No Better in England.

[Edinburgh Scotsman, Dec. 21.]

Mr. Gladstone has addressed the following letter to the Scotsman:

HAWARDEN, Dec. 19, 1879.

SIR,—It was to be expected, after the recent display of public feeling in Scotland and in the North of England on behalf of the Liberal cause, that the declarations it has been my duty to make, numerous and varied as they were, should be subjected to critical review and to some amount of abusive misinterpretation.

I regret, however, to say that beyond the range of critical review, and even of careless citation and licentious comment, another process has been in action, namely, the manufacture of fabrications too common, as far as my experience goes, during these last years, and touching both my public and private life.

In a single newspaper—the North-Eastern Independent—I find it stated that I opposed the disestablishment of the Irish Church down to 1867; that I opposed for years the repeal of the paper duty; that I levied income tax as high as 1s. 6d. in the pound; that I sided with the Southern States in the American war; and other statements, the whole of which are simply false, together with various other half-truths, in which the half that is omitted would overthrow or neutralize the garbled half that is presented.

Other untruths—some of them, I am sorry to say, propogated, of course inadvertently, by Tory members of Parliament—are:

1. That I created a lordship of the Treasury for my son, the member for Whitby.

2. That I appointed my brother-in-law to a commissionership.

3. That I am well known to be a large shareholder in Russian railways.

4. That I am connected with a firm which advances largely for their construction.

5. That I have denounced Lord Beaconsfield as not having a drop of English blood in his veins.

There is not a shew of foundation for any of these five statements.

From the Kingsbridge Gazette the following paragraph has been sent me:

"I have been told by one who professes Radicalism that he was in Wales when Mr. Gladstone came into the Glynne property, and that he (Mr. Gladstone) evicted some fourteen or fifteen small tenant-farmers and put the land into one farm and had a Scotch bailiff to manage it. My informant further said those small farmers were obliged to work at the collieries, and from the depression since he had no doubt many of them had now become paupers. So much for speech, so much for action."

On this I have only to say that I never came into the Glynne property; that I never turned out a small tenant-farmer or any other resident tenant; that I never consolidated a farm; that this year I have divided a large farm into four smaller holdings.

To opponents I will say I think it would be well if some of the very honorable men in their ranks would discountenance this method of carrying on political warfare, which has no parallel, so far as I am aware, on the Liberal side. I have the honor to be, sir, your faithful servant,

W. E. GLADSTONE.

Famously Taken In.

[From Wolfe's Life of Wellington.]

"I got famously taken in on that occasion," said the Duke. "The troops had taken to plundering a good deal. It was necessary to stop it, and I issued an order that the first man taken in the act should be hanged upon the spot. One day, just as we were sitting down to dinner, three men were brought to the door of the tent by the Provost. The case against them was clear, and I had nothing for it but to decide that they should be taken away and hanged in some place where they might be seen by the whole column in its march next day. I had a good many guests with me on that occasion, and among the rest, I think, Lord Nugent. They seemed dreadfully shocked, and could not eat their dinner. I didn't like it much myself, but, as I told them, I had no time to indulge my feelings; I must do my duty. Well, the dinner went off rather gravely; and next morning, sure enough, three men in uniform were seen hanging from the branches of a tree close by the high road. It was a terrible example and produced the desired effect; there was no more plundering; when, some months afterwards, I learned that one of my staff took counsel with Dr. Hume, and as three men had just died in the hospital they hung them up and let the three culprits return to their regiments." "Weren't you very angry, Duke?" "Well, I suppose I was at first, but as I had no wish to take the poor fellows' lives and only wanted the example, and as the example had the desired effect, my anger soon died out, and I confess to you that I am very glad now that three lives were spared."

[Per Steamer Isabel.]

The use of the comma is sometimes important. At a banquet this toast was given:—"Woman—without her, man is a brute." It was printed—"Woman, without her man, is a brute."

Fomin, the Nihilist leader, is in London. London is at present the asylum of several Nihilist refugees. It is also the rendezvous of an equally large number of Russian detectives.

The Whitehall Review has reason to believe that the Russian despatches found in Cabul have all been received at the India Office. They are being printed, and from what that journal learns are likely to astonish both Russophobist and Russo-foolish Englishmen.

A great many strange, eventful histories were connected with the Old King's Bench prison in London, now being dismantled. Some men passed almost a lifetime there. In fact, it is on record that a prisoner who entered a Captain went out an Admiral. Among the naval celebrities who had been sheltered by it was the Earl of Dundonald, famous in South American wars as Lord Cochrane, who escaped over the racquet court.

A little boy starved to death, at Pittsburg, in consequence of a throat disease that prevented him from swallowing anything. He lived four weeks without eating or drinking. His pleadings for food were pitiful, and he frequently dreamed of enjoying sumptuous repasts, only to awake to dreadful hunger and thirst. Just before he died he asked his mother if they would have a good dinner for him in heaven.

The greatest cold seems to have been felt in Silesia. A letter from Munich gives details of that ghastly tragedy in the Rybine Forest—the death of the gypsies. They were found (eleven men, women and children) sitting round the embers of a fire, all frozen stiff and stark. The modern Athens itself was the scene of a scarcely less appalling tragedy. A country milk cart stopped at a shop as usual. The shop-keeper, when the driver did not make his appearance, went into the street and found the lad frozen to death on his seat under the tilt.

Gossip about Ottawa.

Lord Lorne it seems is playing the part of head-usher at Ottawa. He has informed his Ministers that much inconvenience to the public being caused by their occasional absence from the Departments over which they preside, they will be good enough in future to signify to him in writing their intention of leaving the capital. Possibly the Marquis grudges his Ministers the happy privilege of escaping when they choose from the boredom of official life in a place characterized by nothing else—a prviilege denied to himself by the exactions of his own office. But the attitude thus adopted by the Governor-General is novel, and lamentably akin to that which His Excellency's enemies prophesied he would assume when his appointment was first announced. Perhaps the most unfortunate part of the whole affair was the way in which the snub was administered. An ordinary clerk in the Governor's office wrote and signed the letters in which this intimation was conveyed to the Ministers by Lord Lorne's direction, who had better have signed the letters himself, if he did employ a private secretary or an A. D. C. for the purpose. The patronage of the Governor's office is with the Ministry, who are thus placed in the position of having cut a rod with which to flay their own backs. It is possible that the genial influence of Her Royal Highness having been removed, the youthful Governor contemplates having a row. Imagine the veteran statesman, Sir John Macdonald, compelled to write, "Please sir may I go to Toronto!" or Sir Charles Tupper meekly pleading the illness of his father in Nova Scotia as a reason for absenting himself from Ottawa! It is narrated that when Sir Edmund Head once issued some intimatiou to his Ministers about office hours, the gallant but irascible Sir George Cartier sent back a memorandum to the A. D. C.: "Tell Sir Edmund Head to go to—,' This was naughty, but history may repeat itself at the cost of Lord Lorne's dignity.—London Vanity Fair.

The Nihilist Hunted Czar.

No trace has yet been discovered of the Moscow conspirators. Prince Dolgoroucky, the Governor of Moscow, and the authorities of the ancient capital, continue to be at an entire loss as to the discovery of the criminals. Innumerable arrests, embracing all classes of society, not excepting even the highest, have, says a St. Petersburg correspondent, taken place without, however, affording the least clue to the perpetrators of the murderous plot. Notwithstanding the stringent measures adopted for suppression of the Nihilists, the latter appear not to be disheartened, but find ever fresh resources to baffle the vigilance of the authorities. The Semlja i Wolja, their organ, has lately reappeared and, strange to say, on finer paper and in better type than previously. His Majesty, who is said to have had the doubtful pleasure of coming across the Semlja i Wolja among his usual morning papers, has been much annoyed by these seditious harangues, and ordered diligent searches to be instituted for the apprehension of the individual who placed the revolutionary sheet on his writing table. Suffering for many years under a constant fear of being destined to fall a victim to the assassin's ruthless hand, the Emperor, although feigning outward composure on his appearance in public, is at heart really nervous whenever he is obliged to leave the shelter of the Winter Palace. His movements being known long beforehand by the police, large squads of them in plain clothes are always detached to post themselves along the streets through which his Majesty has to pass. The shock to his system occasioned by the recent gunpowder plot has quite destroyed the good effect of his stay in Livadia. He looks pale and haggard, and the melancholy expression so conspicuous to his features has further deepened, and now gives him an aspect of sinister gloom.

Appointment of a Resident Minister in London by the Canadian Government.

The Canadian Government have taken an important step in the decision to maintain for the future a Minister in London to attend to the affairs of the Confederation. It is evident that some such official representation has become a necessity, so that there may be continually at the elbow of the Colonial Secretary in London, who is always a member of the British Cabinet, some one competent to instruct and enlighten, and at the same time authorized to urge and, if need be, to worry the placid John Bull who may hold the Colonial Office. It is not improbable that this may be the beginning of an important change in the relations of the colonies to the mother country, as the fact that the want of a Resident Minister is felt by Canada undoubtedly points to an inherent necessity of a similar official for the other colonies. The tendency of this step will be to give rise to a virtual representation of all the colonies by Ministers in London, and there is every likelihood that, ultimately, these Ministers will be formed by legislation into a Colonial Council. There is no doubt that the present tie between the self-governing colonies and the Home Government is too loose, and that it requires to be tightened in the interests of the empire. It would be difficult to forecast the future of the relations of the colonies. Numerous writers have propounded schemes of representation of the colonies in Parliament itself, but we doubt whether such an extreme step as that is likely ever to be taken. But nothing is more probable than that a Colonial Council will gradually evolve itself with powers and duties commensurate with the growing requirements of the colonies themselves, and with the interests of the population at home in the large and expanding field for commerce and emigration that the colonies offer.—Am. paper.

A Marriage which Causes Talk in London.

The fashionable world in London and Paris is considerably exercised anent the engagement of Mr. Tom Hohler to the widow of the Duke of Newcastle, who died last year. Mr. Hohler is the son of a Gloucestershire parson who eked out his narrow stipend by taking pupils. When about 18, Mr. T. Hohler's friends discovered that he had a wonderful voice and he was brought under the notice of Lord Dudley, who is regarded as a Maecenas of musical aspirants. Lord Dudley took him up, and helped him along, until Mr. Hohler found himself on the boards of the Italian opera; but his reputation there was short-lived, and he had to retire to the concert field, there too, soon to be rated only among the second-class performers. Having a powerful frame and showy person he found a good deal of favor among certain of the fair sex, and for a considerable time has been a constant companion of the Duchess of Newcastle, who is the illegitimate daughter of the late Mr. Hope, of Deepdene, a celebrated seat in Surrey, the inheritor of much of the colossal fortune accumulated in the last, and earlier part of the present, century by the famous Amsterdam firm of his name. Mr. Hope, who subsequently married his daughter's mother—a lady who has proved herself a most estimable character—bequeathed her the whole of his vast estates, subject to an annuity of £10,000 a year to his wife—a most fortunate arrangement, as the Duke of Newcastle would have gambled away every cent. Mrs. Hope, who owns large estates in England, bought some years ago the Castle-blaney property in Ireland, where she is admirable as a proprietor. Her daughter stands far less well in popular esteem, and her marriage with Mr. Hohler will assuredly not raise her position in society. Her son, the present Duke, is a boy at Eton. He will be wealthy, inasmuch as his estates were so tightly tied up that his father could not gamble them away. Mr. Gladstone was a trustee. Entails have their good side, and here is a case in point.

The Land of the Spiked Helmet.

Letter in Cincinnati Gazette: One of the most noticeable things in emerging from Switzerland, where I spent some two weeks altogether, and coming into Germany, is in the change in the military appearance. In Switzerland you rarely meet a soldier. In Germany they are ubiquitous. At the railway stations, in the little villages, in the towns and cities, literally everywhere, you are reminded that you tread the soil of the greatest military nation of modern times, or of any times. You see no officers of high rank, but soldiers in plenty. Just now the military fetes are going on at Kronigsberg, and the emperor and the high military dignitaries are there. I have conversed with soldiers as opportunity offered. "A American" is the passport to their tongues and hearts. They think "the world" of our country. I have attempted to draw from them how they like the German military system, which demands of young men such rigid and long service in the army, with its liabilities and possibilities. Generally they think it no hardship. They are used to it, have grown up under it, expect it, and are contented; and then, they rejoice in their country's "glory." Kaiser William and Bismarck and Moltke are the greatest men who ever lived. They have no enmity to France; they simply love "fatherland." They want to see it prosperous and glorious, and they are ready to fight its battles. There are, no doubt, exceptions to this feeling, especially among those who have families to leave in case of war, but I have not met with any such. "German unity" is their idol.

A Sensation in a Church.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The most intense excitement was occasioned to-day by a sensational scene in the Halton Garden Italian Church. While the priest was celebrating mass, a man in the audience fired a pistol at him. The church was crowded, and the noise caused a semi-panic. The altar was struck by the bullet, and subsequently the flames started out from the side of the altar, and the church was damaged £1,000. The man was arrested after a hard fight by the police, and when taken into custody, had a long stiletto in his hand, with which he attempted to stab those who seized him.

A HUSBAND CONVICTED FOR KISSING HIS WIFE.—A singular case was heard at the County Police Court, Hereford, on Monday, (before Sir Scudamore Stanhope, chairman, and other magistrates), in which George Watkins, of Wellington, near Hereford, a man between 70 and 80 years of age, was summoned for assaulting Mary, his wife, who is somewhat younger, by kissing her. The case caused immense merriment during its hearing. Complainant alleged that, on Monday last, they were seated round the fire, when defendant commenced playing with the poker, and she told him to be quiet. He went on, and when she tried to get up and go away he threw his arms around her neck and held her down while he gave her a kiss. (Laughter.) In kissing her he scratched her face slightly. (Renewed laughter.) That was all the assault. Defendant was then asked to put questions to his wife, and he said he did not mean to scratch "his dear Mary, only to kiss her—(laughter)—as a proof of his affection." He did not use violent language. He then addressed his wife with appealing volability. "Did ever I curse you, my dear Mary, or illtreat you in any way, Mary dear! (Laughter.) Have I not offered to get wood and fetch everything for you? Whatever I got for my labor I gave you. I never went to the public house and don't smoke 'bacca. (Laughter.) I never cursed you; but you have cursed me in bed, Mary, havn't you, dear! (laughter)—and struck me, and I have traces of it now." The Bench gave the defendant the option of going to jail for fourteen days, or to the workhouse for that period, that he might receive medical treatment. He accepted the latter option.—Cardiff (Wales) Mail, Dec. 10th.

HOW A DUCHESS SHOULD RECEIVE HER GUESTS.—Rules for receiving your guests, if you are a duchess, or think you are a duchess: Your servants in livery will introduce your guests from the ante-chamber, calling out their names, and they on entering will make you bows and grimaces by the dozen. You also must go through your exercise. If the guest is a duke, stand straight up; if a marquis, half-way up; if a count, a little way up; if a baron, just bend a little the hinges of your knees; and as for a mere gentleman, any common week-day inclination of the head will do. Your servants, too, must be drilled. Monsieur le Prince Gortschakoff! This must be pronounced in a loud and distinct voice, the doors of the saloon must be banged open, and the buzz of the salon must cease for a while. The descending scale of dignity must be observed, down through the subordinate visitors, until you hear in a soft soprano, on G flat, just audible, Monsieur Guibollard. Then you will see squeezing through, the door a little ajar, a humble individual holding on to his claque hat by the tips of his fingers, while his knees encourage each other by sympathetic and involuntary meetings.—Parisian.

DIDN'T LIKE GREENS. — Several young men were sitting together, and a young lady happened to approach the vicinity. One "real sweet," young fellow, seeing, as he supposed, the young lady looking at him, remarked, playfully, and with a becoming simper, "Well, Miss—,you needn't look at me as though you wanted to eat me." "Oh, no," sweetly replied the young lady, "I never eat greens."

GEN. GRANT is criticised for spending so little time with his mother at Jersey City, whom he ran in to see Christmas day. A New York letter says that he reached Jersey City at half-past ten in the morning, and at half-past three in the afternoon he was whirling back to the arms of Mr. Childs.

It stops Ear Ache and the pain of a Burn in three minutes, and is altogether the best and cheapest medicine ever offered to the people—the cheapest, because it takes so little to do you good. It is composed of six of the best oils known, and nothing but oils. Is worth its weight in gold. Why not buy it to-day?—A. B. DES ROCHERS, assistant postmaster, Arthabaskaville, P. Q., writes:—"Thirteen years ago I was seized by a severe attack of Rheumatism in the head, from which I have nearly constantly suffered. After having used 'Thomas' Eclectric Oil' for nine days, bathing the forehead, I have been completely cured, and have only used half a bottle. This I can certify under oath if you wish."—Rev. J. Mallory, of Wyoming, N. Y., writes, "Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured me of Bronchitis in ONE WEEK."

BEWARE OF IMPOSTERS.—Ask for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. Thomas is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop & Lyman are blown in the bottle, and Take no other. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25 cents. Come ye citizens and strangers,
Miners, sailors and Western rangers,
Listen to the truthful story,
Of Frank Campbell of Victoria.
He in truthful words will tell you
Just the goods he has to sell you.
Mind ye now he isn't joking,
If you are fond of chewing and smoking,
Or if you are given to snuffing,
What he keeps does not need puffing.
He has brands will suit you really,
Tobacco users prize them dearly;
From all parts of the "Old Dominion"
He has stock, and his opinion
Is that none can suit you better
They will please you to the letter.
His Cigars, just from 'Havana,'
Smoke in the most lovely manner;
Meerschaum pipes of style and fashion
Just to suit each taste and passion;
And it is in Canada stated,
His Tobaccos are celebrated;
Green Seal, Straight Cut, all go,
Big Lick, Big Cut, Wind Sap, also
All the Fine Cut Brands for chewing
That your teeth will never ruin;
Pipes to suit the inveterate smoker
Cards for playing sinch or poker,
Pipes of briar and stems of cherry
More than any man can carry;
It would take a week to tell you
All the things he has to sell you.
While in town you may be stopping
At the "Adelphi Corner" drop in;
Campbell you'll find at that location
Ready to give you information,
Or to see you well provided,
With what is by all decided,
The smoker's and the chewer's glory
The best and cheapest in Victoria.

VICTORIA, B. C., 1st December, 1879.

COUNCIL CHAMBERS, Victoria, 8th January, 1879.

To the Worshipful the Mayor and City Councillors:--

GENTLEMEN,--In presenting statements of receipts and expenditure, cash assets and liabilities, and ledger balance sheet, I have to direct your attention in particular to the expenditure of 1879. This expenditure, embracing 13 months, includes outstanding accounts for December, 1878, and arrears of previous months, amounting in all to $7,622 37. The Corporation books now contain all known liabilities to 31st December, 1879, therefore, the present Statement shows 13 months' general expenditure and some arrears.

The excess of liabilities as shown on 31st December, 1879, in the Statement of cash assets and liabilities being $3,138 25 only, and the excess of payments during the year $7,622 37, it follows that your affairs are in a sound condition, as without such payments there would be a balance in favor of 1879 of $4,484 16.

As the Cash Statement does not show the actual expenditure on many important accounts to the close of the year the following entries, taken from the transfers to close, will supply that deficiency, i. e.--

Street Repairs	$17,136 36
City Police	9,987 47
Charges	5,152 64
Street Lighting, 14 months	3,846 32
Legal expenses	610 00
Water Works	16,222 13
	$52,954 92

The difference between the actual expenditure as above and the cash expenditure as shown in the Statement is $10,975 83, which will account for the bulk of the liabilities of the Corporation at this date (31st of December, 1879).

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,
Yours, most obediently,
J. C. BALES, Auditor.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S

(Ex Army Medical Staff.)

CHLORODYNE

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION.--Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the inventor of CHLORODYNE; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.--See Times, July, 12, 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousand of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests those too often fatal diseases--diphtheria, fever, croup, ague.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in diarrhœa, and is the only specific in cholera and dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of epilepsy, hysteria, palpitations and spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in neuralgia, rheumatism, gout, cancer, toothache, meningitis, &c.

EXTRACTS FROM MEDICAL OPINIONS.

The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport, that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was CHLORODYNE.--See Lancet, Dec. 31, 1864.

From A. Montgomery, Esq., late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay.--"CHLORODYNE is a most valuable remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma, and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health, after eighteen months' severe suffering, and when other remedies had failed."

Dr. Lowe, Medical Missionary in India, reports [December, 1865] that in nearly every case of Cholera in which Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE was administered, the patient recovered.

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera.--"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases."

See leading article, Pharmaceutical Journal, Aug. 1, 1869, which states that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the inventor of Chlorodyne; that it is always right to use his preparation when Chlorodyne is ordered.

CAUTION.--None genuine without the words "Dr J. COLLIS BROWNE" on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Sole Manufacturer, J. T. DAVENPORT, 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9., 4s 6d. and 11s.
